The Disentanglement of Populations: Migration, Expulsion and Displacement in postwar Europe, 1944-49

The Disentanglement of Populations: Migration, Expulsion and Displacement in postwar Europe, 1944-49

An examination of population movements, both forced and voluntary, within the broader context of Europe in the aftermath of the Second World War, in both Western and Eastern Europe. The authors bring to life problems of war and post-war chaos, and assess lasting social, political and demographic consequences.
