Survival Guide.

Very few of us will ever be faced with a life or death survival situation, in which knowledge of how to utilize the natural world's resources could mean the difference between life and death. However, you never know when it could be you. There are many situations, when camping or hiking, when a little bush craft could make your stay more pleasant, avoid problems and conserve resources, quite apart from possibly saving your life. In the modern world, we are so used to being assured of food, shelter and luxury that it is good to remind yourself how well you could manage if all of that were suddenly no longer available.

Having some basic survival skills is not only enjoyable but will keep you calm if a situation should escalate, and reassure you that, if the worst should happen, you have already armed yourself with knowledge.

Together we will look at tips for common survival situations, including:

- Finding water
- Finding food
- Constructing a shelter

- First aid in the wild
- Signaling for help
- Keeping your morale up

Some of these skills are fun to practice at home before venturing out — you don't need to be in a life or death situation to get a great deal of satisfaction from starting a fire from scratch or foraging for food. Even if you never need to use them in earnest, they are fun to have and fun to learn with other.
